

St. Clair County Health Care Commission

Our Mission and Vision

We are a collaborative public health system that mobilizes resources to meet identified health needs and promote the health and well-being of all of the residents of St. Clair County.

We do this to enable St. Clair County to be within the top 25% of the healthiest counties in Illinois by the Year 2025.

Since 1991, the Commission has worked to develop and strengthen the collective capacity of our efforts and expertise to assess and address the public health needs of the citizens of St. Clair County. Along the way, we have not only increased our membership fourfold, but have been recognized as a statewide and national model for collaboration.

History of the St. Clair County Health Care Commission

The establishment of St. Clair County's community-based participation in public health assessment and planning emanated out of the formation of the St. Clair County Health Department in 1986. Then County Board Chairman, Jerry Costello, with support of the elected County Board members, appointed a public health task force of community health and civic leaders to hold public hearings on the need for an outer county Health Department. Based upon community input, the County Board established the Health Department through ordinance, in October 1985. This foundation of community participation was built upon with the appointment of the Board of Health.

The Board of Health, recognizing a key community problem of an alarmingly high infant mortality rate established a Maternal and Child Health (MCH) Committee in 1987. This committee served as a vehicle for bringing together representatives from the medical providers, area hospitals, public health agencies, and local educators. Their mission was to assess the problem, coordinate resources, and develop strategies to reduce infant mortality.

As the MCH committee deliberated on solutions to the infant mortality problem, it became abundantly clear that the risk factors that contributed to this major health problem in St. Clair County were also contributing risk factors for other serious problems. The county infant mortality rate served as a "window" through which the MCH Committee peered and identified many other factors that served as an indicator of the health status of the larger community. Access to care, self-responsibility, medical liability, and other problems were all identified as contributing to not only infant mortality, but a myriad of other health problems as well. Based upon this broader view, the Board of Health advocated the establishment of a County Health Care Commission. John Baricevic, then County Board Chairman, embraced the concept of an officially appointed local health care planning group and formed the Commission in May 1991.

THE ORIGINAL MEMBERS OF THE HEALTH CARE COMMISSION INCLUDED:

- Chairman of the Board of Health's MCH Committee,
- Chief Executive Office of each of the four hospitals located in St. Clair County,
- President of the Medical Society,
- Program Director SIU School of Medicine Family Practice,
- Obstetrical nurse managers at three hospitals which provide obstetrical services,
- Public Health Administrator of East Side Health District,
- Public Health Administrator of St. Clair County Health Department.

In 1994, the Commission began an ongoing and long-range strategic planning process to assess community health needs and develop collaborative plans to establish goals and objectives for service delivery and health improvement. These efforts have produced a dynamic array of community health assessment and planning projects that have culminated each year into a series of partnership forums (listed on the opposite page):

Commission members serve as a nucleus of health professionals to assess community needs and collaborate on strategies for success. Additionally, the Commission extends community participation beyond health professionals. This includes consumers, educators, business representatives, parent groups, media representatives, and community based organization representatives through other alliances and coalitions. In this manner, more comprehensive views are included in the assessment, policy development, and assurance functions.
